Loss on the mill $12 000 to $15,000 insurance $8,000 Some freight cars containing petroleum were also burned, and a number of dwelling buildings scorched

Talk of a Duel.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The Journal's Washington special says. Columbus Alexander has arrived in Alexandria to day, and the expectation is that he will meet Eppa Hunton this morning Seconds are divided as to whether any personal collision will occur Edmund Burke Commonwealth's attorney of Alexandria has published a card, denies that he has any intention of instituting criminal proceedings against Gen Hunton for violating the dueling act He says he desires it understood that he has had nothing to do with the Hunton Alexander controversy It is difficult to see how Mr Burke can reconcile this with his sworn oath to enforce the law and prosecute those who violate it.

The Hunton-Alexander Squabble.

RICHMOND, Va., July 22—The Gazette publishes Columbus Alexander's reply to Hunton's last card Alexander denies Hunton's right to accept Hunton's challenge and declines to do so as much right to fear the result of the duel as Hunton had to fear the laws of the District of Columbia He acknowledges the impression of being a friend to all the disputants and concludes by saying he was willing and ready to be waited and not found

A meeting held at Orange Court House this morning appointed delegates to the democratic convention, a resolution to appoint delegates opposed to Hunton was adopted by a vote of 2 to 1 whereupon Hunton's friends withdrew and the meeting appointed delegates friendly to Neal.

In the house of commons to day Sir Stafford Northcote chancellor of the exchequer named the 29th inst for the discussion of Lord Hartington's resolution Randle Edward Plunkett conservative will move an amendment to the resolution expressing confidence in the ministers

The Times on the Liberals.

LONDON July 22—The Times comments on the Marquis of Hartington's resolution in the house of commons Friday last says the liberals cannot be blind to the fact that, with the exception of a small but noisy faction which has clamored forever and brought Turkey to the brink of ruin by the folly of its counsels the great mass of the people are prepared to give sufficient if not enthusiastic assent to the decrees of the Berlin congress If rashly encountered the government might be tempted to take advantage of that popular favor and by a dissolution of parliament increase the strength of the minority

The Times also sharply criticises Gladstone for assuming the right to arrange the liberal campaign which is the business of the party leaders and Gladstone says he cannot follow these If says the Times he were bent on completing the ruin of his party he could scarcely attain that purpose better than by driving them into a contest for which they are at present unprepared Referring to Gladstone's personal authority in the country

The Shots at an English Man-of-war

LONDON July 21—Layard British ambassador at Constantinople has official information that when the Russian Circassians fired on the English man of war boat near the Gulf of Saros on the 17th inst, there was no officer near them, and that also the English sailors who had been arrested were released as soon as they were brought before an officer

Fighting a Fire

LIVERMORE July 22—The fire reported this morning did not do so much damage as at first anticipated The men for ten miles around flocked to the scene and fought it with desperation regardless of the extreme heat saving valuable fields of grain in the stack The fire burned over 800 acres of stubble and pasture doing no great damage except burning a few fences

The More Murder Trial

SAN FRANCISCO July —The effort the hour after beginning business in morning the court room was packed a large portion of the audience consisting of ladies Counsel for defendants made a motion for a continuance of the trial of defendant Churchill next on the list after Sprague In support of his motion he offered the affidavit of Dr Belmont county physician that when arrested Churchill was seriously ill and that subsequent confinement had seriously aggravated his disease He stated that trial just now would endanger his life Decision was reserved

Mr Howe replied for the prosecution and spoke two hours Ray followed for the defense Hyland and Gould will speak this afternoon when the case will go to the jury

Creed Haymond opened the most of the afternoon to day in his speech for the defense Frank Gaskill in addressing the jury this evening and the charge will be given before adjournment Public opinion to night is that there will be a disagreement or acquittal As soon as accomplishes there is no evidence implying a conviction on a count, to the jury that was Attempted murder occurred yesterday in the jury room Gaskill was struck in the jaw by a ball in the hands of Churchill from which it appears that Mr Slater voted aye on Butler's motion to adjourn and that he voted aye on ordering the main question on the report of the conference law It seems an unaccountable fatuity that committee which has the steel and wasn't the man yells the Sir Knight refuses to rush into print with a parade of evidence that proves the truth of the charges against his establishes my statement to a letter

The vote upon ordering the main question was a test vote— indeed the Standard itself classes it among the votes direct and indirect upon the bill The previous question is the understood and effective weapon of the majority to prevent defeat through the "tactics of the minority On this Mr Slater voted aye as stated That this was a test vote is shown by imposing on the final vote on the bill There were 106 votes aye on ordering the main question and 102 voted aye on the final vote

The Standard says the amount Mr Slater got was $10 The truth is he got $1 100 more under the steal bill than he would have otherwise received Whether or not Mr Slater's enemies would all have done the same thing is immaterial Mr Slater's opponents may be conclusive evidence of their viciousness yet there are many thousands of men in this country who have never seen Mr Slater and probably never heard of him who have denounced the pocketing of back pay by members of congress, and who will continue to do so A large number of congressmen conscientious in the matter or sensitive to public opinion refused to take it

As I said in my former letter the defense which Mr Slater makes leaves it impossible to say anything in his behalf He said in effect that he took the money because the mileage committee would not allow him mileage by way of Portland and San Francisco but restricted him to mileage for the route he actually traveled As Mr Squeers would say "This is richness" The claim of several hundred dollars as mileage for travel which he had not performed is an attempt at grab more indecent if possible than the salary grab Mr Slater took the salary steal because he failed in his mileage steal This is the statement of it

It is no defense for those who drew this money to say that the law allowed it This was the plea of Shylock If Mr Slater was not entitled to this money in morals he should not have taken it and he committed an offense against the public when he did so If it was right in morals that he should have it then he would have been justified in voting for the bill It is not worth while to draw distinctions between the receiver of stolen goods and the thief by whom they are stolen No casuistry can accomplish it And it is just as little worth while to attempt to distinguish between the man who procured the back pay and the man who pocketed it and profited by it

It is still too early for a salary grabber to receive promotion at Democratic hands in Oregon The event is too recent and the vehement and universal denunciation of the act too fresh in the public mind to make such a thing possible There have been five nominations by Democratic conventions for congress since Mr Slater's election On more than one occasion he has been a candidate before these conventions, and it is well known that at any time his services could have been had as a congressional candidate had they been required but they were not required His nomination has at no time been possible since the "grab If Mr Slater supposes that members of the legislature are less sensitive upon those matters which have retired him from politics or are less conscious of their responsibility than the delegates composing a Democratic convention he will learn his mistake

The Standard seems to question my right to use the signature Democrat, for the reason that Democrats do not have to resort to THE OREGONIAN for the publication of their letters I do not have to resort to THE OREGONIAN nor the Standard either, for that matter It is my privilege however to do so nor does its exercise in my judgment impair the symmetry of my party record I have regularly voted the Democratic ticket and this will be the first time during which I twice voted for the editor of the Standard

I have not seen fit to assail the editor of the Standard with coarse epithets or vituperation, nor to make personal reference to him Much might be soon written of this character if the subject of it was of sufficient importance or the matter was relevant I have not thought nor do I now think that Mr Slater's chances to obtain votes for the U S senate in the Democratic caucus of the legislature are any better than they have been to get votes for the congressional nomination in Democratic conventions His resurrection from the salary grab graveyard will never astonish the eyes of the world and I should not have said a word upon this subject had not the Standard in making his defence misrepresented the facts

There are at least a half a dozen gentlemen of capacity and integrity who have been mentioned in senator among whom there is but little choice There is no trouble in securing a first person therefor for the office—the will not try to rob the high the doors of the treasury with a mileage claim for fictitious travel or stuff his pockets with salary swag. DEMOCRAT

Unfortunate Umatilla

[From the Pendleton Independent]

All is confusion There being no confidence place in the masses of the reservation Indians gives rather a gloomy outlook for our country at present It being harvest time and not safe to be in the fields the grain is left to the mercy of the loose stock which in many places are breaking in and destroying everything Where many houses are being taken into by Indians who take all they want and destroy all the balance leaving many without homes grain fields or anything else Many will before long be reduced to a very low state of finance With the paralyzed condition of business of all kinds, we can only live in hope

PENITENTIARY AFFAIRS

PORTLAND July 21 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I see in the Salem State Rights of the 17th inst an article headed What is being done at the State Prison wherein the writer says

Capt B F Burch the present superintendent of the prison in bad condition, no money at all to pay outside contractors (other bankrupt or wholly insolvent) and ready to relinquish their contracts for prison labor

The above statement is false in every particular and I should not have noticed it but for the same statement having been apparently indorsed some time ago As to the condition of the prison and its inmates when I turned it over to Superintendent Burch I herewith submit a statement prepared at that time and signed by J H Moores and I Hoyt Both gentlemen are well known in Oregon Mr Moores it may be stated was chairman of the penitentiary for eight years during Governors Gibbs and Woods administrations

OFFICERS OF THE PRISON

SALEM Feb 1st 1877

Hon Wm H Wallace, Superintendent Oregon State Penitentiary—DEAR SIR We have just returned from a visit to the State Prison which has for the last six years been under your management and were shown through all its departments from the office and parlor to the workshops and cells Owing to the limited time at our command our examination was only cursory and did not lead us into an investigation of the details of the management but so far as was apparent to us everything was in good order and man fested care and attention on the part of the officers The building is certainly well adapted for the purpose of its construction and the State of Oregon we think have no cause for complaint as the care taken of the prisoners and the improvements of the grounds The convicts seemed to be in good health and comfortably clad and from their general appearance to be well fed and properly cared for The workshops especially the tannery and shoe shop we should pronounce a success, and must if properly managed not only afford a profit to the contractors and remuneration to the state but be admirably adapted for furnishing employment to the convicts Respectfully J H MOORES
J HOYT

As to there being no money left of the appropriation for the maintenance of the prison at the time above referred to that is equally false and I can't imagine how any one could make such a statement A cursory report of that time was published in several papers of the state showing that there was left unexpended of the $40,000 appropriated $28 291 08 I also hold the receipt of Superintendent Burch for supplies, such as flour groceries potatoes grain, tobacco, etc amounting to $1 982 40 making a total of $30 266 48 Besides this I have a receipt for the following articles not included in the above amount consisting of extra clothing on hand and not in use at that time 750 pairs blankets 1 000 shirts 1000 suits of coats 1000 pairs pants There was money sufficient for the actual maintenance of the prison for the balance of the two years if properly managed

As to the contractors they all expressed themselves satisfied with the discipline of the prison They had leased the men for four years and given bonds for the faithful performance of their leases The bondsmen were all good and the bonds had been approved by the governor as to the law directs The article referred to declares that the contractors were bankrupt It is certain however that their bondsmen were not bankrupt, among them were such names as Wm Jones of Eola, Miller, M Mayers and —— Morris I turned over to Mr Burch four of these contractors bonds with the securities I have named and hold his receipts for the same Mr Burch subsequently stated publicly that he had cancelled the bonds and released the bondsmen I had never known by what authority he assumed to release the contractors with solvent bondsmen The article instead of referring to the contractors' insolvency which was not true ought to have stated that the contracts became void by Mr Burch's own illegal act W H WATKINDS

ENGLAND AND THE TREATY

BALLOONFIELD'S DIPLOMACY—WHO IS THE DUPE? HAS ENGLAND ACTUALLY GAINED ANYTHING?

[From the New York Herald July 12.]

England is excited over the secret treaty with Turkey—more excited than Russia is and not without reason In fact this treaty and the portion of the San Stefano treaty which has been accepted by the congress at Berlin constitute together precisely such an adjustment of the Oriental relations of Russia and England as was proposed by the Czar Nicholas in 1853 and then rejected by England with a great flourish of trumpets and even with a specific declaration against it from Lord John Russell based on the ground that it would not be fair for England to make a secret treaty with one of the powers to a negotiation in which several others had an equal interest In January 1853 the Czar Nicholas had with the British ambassador Sir George Hamilton Seymour, several personal conferences, which became somewhat famous, as reported in Seymour's despatches and laid before parliament In those conferences the emperor stated clearly his own opinions of the condition of the Ottoman empire and of the necessity the great powers were under of providing against the event of its actual collapse He spoke of it as moribund and of the designation of the sultan as the sick man originated with him in those conferences He believed the political and social condition of Turkey to be beyond remedy, said so plainly, and proposed that Russia and England—a great continental and a great maritime power—should come to an understanding as to the attitudes they would respectively hold He desired to be dominant toward Constantinople as against Austria and agreed to give England Egypt and stand by her as against France

Nicholas proposed all this before the Crimean war and England denounced it as infamous and now after having made that war and after having seen another far more bloody waged on the same ground after seven years of ineffective struggle against the inevitable England accedes at last to the policy of the czar and even seizes upon it with a cry of triumph For the settlement as made is substantially what Nicholas sketched—England takes a hand with Russia in stripping the dying sultan of his dominions Nicholas offered her Egypt and the principal significance of the possession of Cyprus is that it is a guarantee for Egypt and the Egyptian canal On the other hand what the treaty of Berlin accords is Russian ascendency in the Balkan countries and the entering wedge of Russian advance in Armenia But England scorned this when she might have had it by a fair agreement between dominant powers only to glory over it when gained by trickery

If Russia does not protest against England's treaty if she assents to it, it is because her chancellor perceives that it is simply a flat repudiation of what taught remain of the treaty of Paris and an adoption by England at last of the policy always urged by Russia It is not Russia's cue to defend or protect the treaty of Paris It was a treaty that simply recorded the results of a war made against her How then should she quarrel with action that tends to erase it from the records of Europe? Neither can it be expected that any Russian statesman should assume a fierce aspect, to see England rush with the air of a conqueror to burst through the door that Russia placed ajar 25 years ago

Independent Movements in the South

From the New York Herald July 1

The rise of a vigorous independent party in all the south ern states this fall appears to us therefore, on all accounts an event to be welcomed by the country as beneficial not only to the southern communities but to the country at large

INDEMNITY

There could be no more equitable claim upon the government for indemnity than that of the people of our state who have been sufferers during a month past by the Indian raid In the first place it is the duty of the government to protect those whom it invites to take up their residence in new portions of country and it becomes legally its duty to indemnify them for losses which fall upon them in consequence of its own dereliction as in the present case Government had these Indians in charge and was responsible for their conduct Instead of providing for them as it had agreed and as a prudent policy would have dictated it refused to keep its engagements and the Indians were thereby directly incited to outbreak and to their raiding expedition the brunt of which has fallen upon a quiet and industrious people hundreds of miles away from the first seat of the trouble It is undeniably and directly the government s own fault Nobody can pretend that the people of Oregon are in any way to blame for this uprising its course, or its consequences Government was not only responsible for its wards, but doubly responsible in that its own conduct was the direct means of inciting them to this irruption upon the people of Oregon.

Therefore government should pay the losses which our people have suffered as a consequence of its own acts. To form a basis for a claim before congress in their behalf every possible means should be at once employed to collect and preserve full evidence of the losses caused by the raid Testimony should be taken at once on the spot. If no other method offers it might be done under the sanction of the county courts A schedule of losses, properly attested, would be a strong basis on which to present a claim The case is exceptional The policy of government converted these bands of Indians into public enemies and launched them upon the people of Oregon, many of whom were murdered while great quantities of property were destroyed. If this be not a basis of a good claim for indemnity it would be difficult to imagine a case in which such claim might be fairly urged

WHAT CONGRESS HAS DONE

Congress, says the Standard has legislated so as to bring the greenbacks up to the standard of gold" It is amazing indeed how deeply the idea is planted in some minds that all things are done by "legislation The causes through which paper currency has been brought nearly up to the standard of gold are mainly these Contraction of its volume the thirteen years of growth which the country has had since the war, thus extending and enlarging the channels of circulation increase of exports as compared with imports by which the balance of trade has been changed in our favor, and the steady refusal of the country to create more greenbacks or to respond to the call of the inflationists for "payment" of bonds with greenbacks. Congress has not helped these objects at all, and no act that it has passed has aided the appreciation of greenbacks, except the resumption act which was passed several years ago, and which Democratic conventions and newspapers generally condemn There has been, in fact, during a long period an insidious assault on the public credit by the inflationists, and a constant demand for more greenbacks, which have kept back the rise of paper currency to gold valuation for several years beyond the time when natural causes would have brought it about Recently congress has laid the foundations of a new mischief by tinkering with silver. The silver dollar, as soon as the supply becomes abundant, will come into general circulation and will be worth (as gold is) just the value of the bullion in it, which is now only 88 cents; and when the greenback is redeemed in silver it will fall to the silver level of course. Every intelligent person foresees these results. What congress has done for the public credit has, or the whole, been a detriment to it, and what the inflationists have threatened during many years has been the main obstacle to the recovery of financial stability.

THE EASTERN SUMMER.

In 1876—centennial year—the heat of summer was said to be unusual all over the eastern states; and Pacific coast people then at the east, unaccustomed to such an atmosphere, all resolved that they wouldn t on any consideration live where such extreme tyranny of the thermometer was ever a possible thing But it was not so unusual there after all The present summer, all over the eastern half of the continent, is hotter even than that of 1876. Naturally we note the contrast with the equable and delightful climate of the Pacific slope, and especially of our own state. Let it be observed that the heat of the east is far more oppressive than the range of the thermometer would indicate to those long accustomed to the exceptional clearness and purity of the atmosphere here. Not often, it is true, does the temperature rise to one hundred degrees with us; but even when it does, it is less oppressive than a much lower temperature in an atmosphere charged with humidity and with miasmatic poisons In a dry and pure atmosphere like ours summer's heat is little felt. The cool nights precipitate heavy dews, clearing the air of vapors which in the eastern states, where the nights are as hot as the days, produce that remarkable sultriness and close, depressing effect, which renders a considerable part of every summer almost unbearable Night and shade with us are always cool. There neither night nor shade gives perceptible relief It is, perhaps, easier to support a temperature of one hundred and ten degrees where the air is dry and pure than ninety five degrees where the atmosphere is humid and perhaps miasmatic

DAIRY PRODUCTS.

Production and exportation of butter and cheese must in time become one of the most important branches of the trade of Oregon and Washington The reason for it exists in the unsurpassed facilities which our country offers for this branch of business The enormous extent of our grazing lands the richness of the grasses, excellence of water and favorable conditions of climate combine to render this region equal to any for successful prosecution of this industry The foundation of good butter is good feed for the cows and good water for them to drink Management is then the great thing, and it is cannot come by nature as Dogberry said reading and writing do but must be acquired by attention and experience Good butter and cheese are impossible without adequate preparation and necessary skill As this fact becomes recognized we fortunately see less quantities of an inferior product in the market and extensive dairies where skillful management is observed have been getting into operation But the business has hardly as yet made a beginning It scarcely supplies the call of our market It is however highly satisfactory to find that a better class of dairy products is taking the place of the poorer grades which were long a reproach to the skill of our people

Candidates for the United States senate who don t happen to be judges or members of the legislature are very busy these times declining the senatorship for persons who crave that position They are prodigal with an earnest and pathetic vigor certain parts of the constitution of Oregon which pronounce these persons ineligible and sole only remaining them that they can not be candidates while they at rendering themselves liable to the frightful charge of perjury With touching interest it is demanded of them if they are willing to be foresworn and to lay that awful burden upon their conscience for any office whatever By following this line up closely it is hoped to reduce the number of candidates somewhat But the bad ones are still numerous enough to be lamentably in each other s way There may be an idea in some quarters that because the constitution of Oregon declares certain persons ineligible for the senate they are actually so But the constitution of the United States prescribes what persons may be elected to the United States senate, and no other qualifications or conditions can be required by the constitution or laws of any state

A report of the income and expenditure of the government for the fiscal year which ended on the 30th ult is published In round numbers the receipts from all sources were $258 000 000 being about $11 000 000 less than the receipts of the preceding year Of this falling off $8 000 000 are due to reduced receipts from internal revenue, traceable partly to the tinkering of congress with existing duties and partly to the reduced ability of the people to consume articles of luxury like whisky and tobacco from which the largest amount of such revenue is derived Exclusive of interest payments on the public debt amounting to one hundred millions of dollars the ordinary expenditures of the government were $125 620,000 or six millions less than the amount expended during the preceding year

This is the third year of the famine in the northern provinces of China The country subject to this visitation is the vast delta plain which forms one of the most noticeable features in the surface of China, and which includes the provinces of Chihle, Shanse Shense and Honan This immense plateau covers an area of 240,721 sq iare miles and is inhabited by a population of upward of 70 000,000 all of whom are in the direst want of food, of whom it is reckoned that 9 000,000 are actually starving Before another crop can be gathered half or more of the vast population of seventy millions may perish No calamity so great has overtaken the human race since the year 1770 when some fifty or sixty millions perished of famine in Bengal, India.

In Michigan the political organization that goes by the name of the Democratic party declares that "gold and silver is the money of the constitution, and all paper currency should be convertible into such coin at the will of the holder This is good doctrine for any party But on the same day upon which it was uttered in Michigan the party in Missouri which goes by the same name resolved thus "We demand the immediate and unconditional repeal of the resumption act Legal tender notes, commonly called greenbacks, should be legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private" Who is the statesman to reconcile the positions as next presidential candidate?

It is understood that Representative Hiscock, of New York, now serving on the Potter committee, is the administration candidate for senator for that state to defeat Conkling

TUESDAY MORNING JULY 23 1878

CITY.

IMPORTANT LAND SUIT—In the United States circuit court yesterday the jury was impaneled in the important suit of the U S vs O S N Co (for condemning the land belonging to the O S N Co for the use of the government in the construction of a canal around the Cascades) at 10 o'clock and took their seats in the box. Ben Jaggers John D Lee Knight Enos Davis John Burk Silas Gillette Samuel Raney John Buck Reeves Charles O Boynton Esq Wm Beeves Charles O Boynton Esq Sheriff. By order of the court the United States marshal has chartered the steamer City of Salem, which will leave here this morning at 5 o'clock for the Cascades having on board Judge Deady the jurors the U S district attorney, clerk of the court Major Gillis of the U S engineer's office and two deputies of the court The jurors will make a personal examination of the ground to be condemned The party will return here this evening.

DR. GILL'S MONUMENT Mr Wm Young has just finished a very handsome monument for Dr. Gill, which is to designate the last resting place of the late Dr Keil who died in December The monument consists of a pretty Italian marble tablet and when complete will stand about 5 feet high It is very plain, substantial and of good material—like the man whose final resting place the stone is to mark Near to the top of the monument a weeping willow is carved with branches broken The tablet bears the following inscription in German Hier ruhet in Frieden der Grunder der Bethel und Aurora Colonie, Dr Wilhelm Keil Geboren 26sten Marrz, 1812 Gesterben den 30ten September, 1877." The lettering which was done by Mr. Young, is very finely executed A few days the monument will be placed in position in the cemetery near Aurora

A PLEASANT DRIVE—Those who desire to take a pleasant drive and at the same time enjoy a magnificent view of Portland and its surroundings should not fail to travel on what is known as the Slavin Road This road can be heard from the city and for some distance beyond the bridge on South First street, is in excellent condition for a drive and passes through the cricket grounds, the race track cemetery and along an elevated tract of land, commanding a beautiful view of the river, city and the wooded region of the Willamette

SCHOONER WESTPORT—The new schooner recently launched at Mr. W J Stevens, which is now lying at the foot of Ash street down the river, is attracting much attention as a fine specimen of marine architecture, and her beautiful lines indicate much speed. Her dimensions are as follows Length over all, 84 feet, breadth of beam 24 feet 6 inches; depth of hold in clear 7 feet 6 inches. The carrying capacity is estimated at 200 tons. She will be completed by Sept 1st, and will make an admirable craft for inland trade, or a pilot boat

SERIOUS ACCIDENT—The Astoria paper of the 19th says: "A serious accident occurred at the camp of Raymond's logging camp to a young Canadian named Rebew, who when attempting to jump on to a spring board struck a falling tree fell across his left leg, breaking it in three places above the knee. Two of his comrades came down on the sound with a fast row boat to secure the services of Dr. Jennings as soon as possible

THE DREDGE BOAT.—The U S snagboat Cornubia now engaged in removing snags below Portland and Oregon City, and is doing excellent work; it is now in Gervais Slough and will proceed to McCloskey's mill to remove the wingdams, which were recently repaired by the freshet last winter

THE DREDGE.—The U S dredge, which was to complete under during the spring, is at present at work at the month of the Willamette Slough The usual amount of filling was found necessary to take place during the winter As soon as the work is finished here it will be sent to the Cascades bar to operate on the channel there

LIGHT-HOUSE TENDER—FOG SIGNAL—The inspecting engineer of this lighthouse district, Capt Wilson, Puget Sound, and Lieut Head, Oregon, to jointly select the most suitable site for a light and fog signal at the former place, and at the latter. Their report will be forwarded to Washington

BRIEF NOTES.

Big passenger lists

The steamer Ancon has arrived

Pale Luna showed her face last evening, about 11 o clock

Stark street at its intersection with First, is being improved

The dramatic company has disbanded and the members are en route to San Francisco

Fred Bogart who was so badly injured several days ago is fast recovering He is now visiting friend at Albany

Mr Wm Stephens has leased the Vancouver ferry and the boat is now making regular trips between that town and the Bluff

The steamer Lot Whitcomb brought a party from St Johns yesterday to ramble the stakes for the Portland Oregon railroad Barrels will be dropped to San Francisco by the Oregon

Messrs D W Prentice & Co's have laid on our table a neat little work entitled The Sunday Visitor Words by Isaac Dodson music by Harriet

Mr J J Ellis formerly chief clerk at military headquarters has resigned his position since they have been removed to Vancouver and expects soon to leave for his old home in England

The improvement in the old gas building corner of F and Front streets is now very nearly completed and the workmen were yesterday engaged in placing on the tin roof The building is much improved in appearance

Some old chronic drunks when arrested and taken to the police court are in the habit of giving fictitious names often those of respectable and order loving citizens—and they so often appear on the records This may be very pleasant to such irresponsible vagabonds But those whose names are borrowed don't appreciate the joke

DEATH OF NAT. H. LANE.

At a few minutes before noon yesterday Nat H Lane Esq breathed his last at his residence in East Portland He had been seriously ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys for a long time but careful medical attendance and a visit to the Soda Springs had very greatly improved his condition and up till Sunday his friends were hopeful of his recovery On that day however he was stricken by paralysis and soon it was seen that hope was vain and that his end was near He lingered in much pain till the hour named and then his spirit fled from its earthly tenement Mr Lane has been a resident of Oregon since 1848 and by his upright dealings with his fellow men, his truly honorable life and his unbounded kindheartedness had won the earnest friendship of many and the esteem of all who came in contact with him He was a son of Gen Joseph Lane born we believe in Indiana and was 51 years of age He leaves a bereaved family and a very large circle of friends who will long remember him as many good traits of character

At a meeting of the board of trustees of East Portland held last evening that body adopted the following resolutions

WHEREAS, An esteemed fellow citizen a former member of this board an old resident of this place and of the state at large has departed this life on the forenoon of the 23d inst before

Resolved That in the death of Mr Lane the community is deprived of an honest honorable and useful citizen and a kind and generous neighbor

Resolved, That we hereby tender to the widow and relatives of the deceased our fervent commiseration on account of their sad bereavement

Resolved That as a token of our respect this board attend in a body the funeral of our deceased fellow townsman

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

We have received the following address and presentation to Rev Patrick Mackin P P, on the occasion of his leaving on a tour to Europe

ASTORIA July 22 1878.

TO REV P MACKIN P P—Rev and Dear Sir The announcement that you are about to leave us and never those ties of sincere friendship with which you are esteemed by us, induces us to approach you and present unsolicited on your part an expression of the high appreciation we have of your character not only as our pastor but also as a citizen and true hearted Irishman

For a quarter of a century you have devoted the prime of your life to the work of an evangelist among your people in the diocese of Oregon This occasion will not permit even a brief men tion of your arduous labors in this section of the vineyard where the harvesters were few and the burdens great Obedient to the call of a true missionary you have been changed about between distant points until often your health was impaired and your energies exhausted But it is our sincerest wish that your intended tour to your own dear native land and the scenes of your youth may restore your strength and prolong your usefulness.

It is with unfeigned regret that your parishioners here are compelled to bid you adieu or depart are they can only express their sorrow at such an unwelcome event. The acceptable manner in which you administered the temporal as well as spiritual affairs of our church shall always be in memory to which we can revert with pride and pleasure During your pastorate our church received your special care as is daily testified by the beautiful tones of the bell which your good judgment enabled us to provide to invite us to our devotions

Your early departure hardly allows us an opportunity to prepare a suitable parting gift but you will p cease accept this gold headed cane inscribed "To Rev P Mackin P P by his parishioners, Astoria Oregon 1878, as an earnest of what we would offer were circumstances more favorable The sympathy which many of us received from you as a wise and patriotic Irishman as well as a devoted pastor, we shall never fail to prize and you may enjoy your visit to your native land and again return to us in recuperated health and spirits is the fondest wish of Thomas Healy J Goodman R R Merriman E Fox Allen Makinson Frank Carr P Macormick and many others

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

We see by the Victoria papers that a project is on foot for the construction of a narrow gauge railroad from Sumass B C, to Bellingham Bay W T

The Seattle Coal and Transportation Company have purchased the ship Great Western now loading at New York for San Francisco The ship Tamplar, also loading at New York for the same port has been sold to the same parties

A Walla Walla paper says "Men who continually shoot off their mouths about what they would do if they were Gen Howard seldom ever shoot off a gun in defense of their country, unless out of meat in which case they might shoot a hog in the car

A decision has at last been reached in the territorial supreme court affirming that recent congressional legislation is not only established the validity of the Seattle city charter but legalized all acts made under its provisions prior to the passage by congress of the bill referred to This settles a multitude of troublesome questions, the most important of which is the one concerning the collection of delinquent taxes

To ARRIVE—Pivetal & Gerrard de Pury chiropodists dermothologists and manicures from 838 Market street San Francisco will be at the Holton House in a few days See future advertisement

PORTLAND TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO.

AN OLD CITY—A GLANCE RETROSPECTIVE

Before us lies a copy of THE OREGONIAN bearing date of June 7 1851 Take it up tenderly, for with care for it, pages are frayed and discolored and the ravages of the elements are visible Thinking a review of the contents of this souvenir of the past would prove acceptable to our readers we have endeavored to make a careful analysis of its most interesting features The paper was a weekly and published every Saturday in rooms in Thomas J Dryer who was also editor and proprietor The office was located in the corner of Morrison and First streets The rates of subscription were $7 per annum single copies 25 cents

The articles clipped from various papers which appear on the outside pages are replete with interesting matter and even a casual reader of talent displayed in the selection that is to be found in the average weekly newspaper of to day and considering the obscurity of Oregon at that time all the articles attendant upon receiving eastern journals were accustomed to the variety of useful information contained therein The majority of Oregon's early settlers will recognize many of the advertisements of literature in this state usually ascribe to Joaquin Miller the palm of priority in going to Oregon and many things a local habitation and a name This is an error which we desire to correct Long before Joaquin blazed his thoughts into rhyme others here essayed to mount Pegasus and succeeded to a certain degree We peruse in this paper the effusion of some muse in glorious Multnomah who was determined not to waste his sweetness on the Oregon air It is entitled 'An Apostrophe to Mount Hood This verse is typical of the whole

Majestic Mount say why lookest thou
Yet art looks gravely down
And when storms shroud thy hoary brow
Oh why dost thou so darkly frown
And oft in tones of thunder speak
The silence deep of Oregon
Arousing with thine awful quake
The grizzly and each son of vagun?

There has been worse poetry written yet if we consider that the above was penned at a time when potatoes were preferred to poetry we will circumscribe all thoughts of critical acumen in regard to the not very polished tone of composition Several city ordinances signed by H D O Bryant mayor and W J Caldwell recorder appear The primitive condition of Portland can be grasped after the perusal of one which orders that a supervisor be appointed to oversee the work to be performed in placing in good condition Front and First streets from A to Hamhill street also another which requires all property owners on the above mentioned streets to lay good and substantial sidewalks Evidently these were Portland's first attempts in assuming municipal airs What jolly times the old pioneers must have had tramping through three or four feet of mud on Front street and Oregon mud no cleaner than that of the present day The laws passed during the session of the thirty first congress bearing attestation of Millard Fillmore president of the United States William R King president pro tem of the senate and Howell Cobb speaker of the house of representatives are published in this issue as Dryer had the affix to the name pursuer of the U S laws The editorials are mainly devoted to discussion of home affairs and are written in a clear concise style Personalities cropped out at an early date in Oregon journalism for in an editorial note the editor inflicts a scathing rebuke to one of the early residents who had sent him a letter containing threats of personal chastisement he brands the writer as a dastardly coward and a cringing sycophant

An account of a pleasure excursion to the Cascades on the splendid steamer Lot Whitcomb is written in a terse interesting manner and thanks are extended to Capt Ainsworth and Purser Torrence for their unremitting efforts to satisfy all who enjoyed the trip on this safe and fast steamer The election returns as published show that Portland contained 922 voters and the editor concedes the election of Joseph Lane for delegate in congress over — Willson his competitor The members elected to the legislature from Washington county were Dr Ralph Wilcox J C Bishop and Robert Thompson From Yamhill county Judge Deady was elected This was probably his first step in public life in Oregon and proves that at an early date his efforts were put forth in aiding the formation of laws for this state When in after years he was placed in the position of judge of the United States courts, what treasures of science what variety of erudition what sagacity of discernment were combined in his maintenance of the responsibility devolving upon him His devotion to literature his knowledge of science render their assistance always accessible to him, and they never stoop to enter the temple of Themis when guided by his hand

A peculiarity noticeable in the original writings is the frequent use of words culled from the sterile gardens of the Chinook vocabulary Almost every sentence is interlarded with such expressions as hyas klose skookum,' 'tillicums," kopa etc Such words seem to be as much in vogue in those days as when in later years that linguistic Bohemian J Quinn Miller morphosed his native tongue Columns are devoted to Indian He always interspersed his local items with extracts from the original of the classic writers and his articles teemed with French Spanish and Italian phrases to the great disgust of those unacquainted with the sweets of those tongues The only reason I can ascribe to the recurring use of Jargon is that the Indians were among the numerous subscribers and Miller wished to please them Extracts from their language were intended as a compliment to their intellectuality The local notes state that four steamboats and eight barques are now lying at the levee A notice of the dedication of the Congregational church is given Rev Horace Lyman acting as officiating minister A comparison of the prices current as marked in this paper with ours of to day shows but slight difference in the prices of provisions, etc

The advertising columns are well filled, and many names are recognizable as old citizens who are now enjoying the rewards of their early toil others have passed from the scenes of life and sleep peacefully near the city they struggled so hard to found Those advertising as commission merchants were Charles G Birdseye located on Front street J C Norton Front street Norris & Co D C Coleman Wm Beeson Ogden George H Flanders and Ricketson & Meier Couch H & Co were engaged in the banking and wholesale mercantile business Pillow & Drew have removed to their new and elegant store on Front street between Stark and Oak and have a large assortment of watches clocks etc Thomas Pritchard has just received a general assortment of coffee, spices, candies baskets dried apples, etc Henry W Corbett corner Oak and Front streets, has fresh arrivals direct from New York of dry goods millinery groceries, drugs and medicines powder shot and a variety of goods too numerous to mention J C Norton has just received per bark Alexina a large invoice of goods adapted to the wants of the country such as fine brandy Monongahela whisky wines, etc Robert Thompson respectfully informs the citizens of Portland that he has removed to his new store on the bank of the river where he will keep all kinds of groceries, and will also make furniture to order Stationery and school books for sale at Todd's express office, Sam K May, agent The Warren House O S Hall proprietor on Front street has been completely refitted and materially improved and superior inducements are offered to the traveler or sojourner Comforts unsurpassed by any hotel in the territory The Columbian Hotel corner of Front and Washington streets, Orlando McKnight proprietor informs the public that he has had many years experience as a hotel keeper and flatters himself he with proper facilities will find a share of the Columbian will be acceptable to all who desire a first rate Messrs Baker Ulrich dispensed bread and such Portlanders all ate less for the baking Fine fresh, hot and smoking from the oven King Fuller & Co are prepared to furnish all kinds of furniture of the best quality at their tannery near Portland J S Smith & Co had in addition to their Washington Foundry Dr J H Griffin surgeon dentist inserted pivot teeth and performed such a manner as to combine the virtue of a Hardwood Hogue Snell & Co while Dean retail druggists were doing business on the corner of Front and Washington streets Three express companies were doing business in Portland viz Holbrook Valentine and Gregory & Co Messrs Leonard & Green acted as agents for the latter in Astoria Joseph W Trutch and Alonzo Leland were surveyors and civil engineers Macdonald & Higgins Hallock & Webber had the carpentering and housebuilding, and executed every description of work in the most approved style of eastern buildings Messrs Crosby & Smith offer manufactured lumber at the mills will locate in the town of Milton They describe the town as beautifully located upon the lower branch of the Willamette, just far enough above its junction with the Columbia to render it an excellent harbor, and has the advantage of being accessible from all sides either by land or water It is also the lowest point upon the river that has a wagon road leading to it from the Willamette valley Two mountain streams run on each side of the town Although this town has been laid out but a few months it has already made such progress in point of improvement and commerce that it bids fair soon to become the most important one in Columbia county The aspirations of the proprietors were doomed to disappointment its end was inglorious and nothing remains but a few decayed timbers to mark the spot where Multnomville was to flourish

Many other interesting notes are to be found in this rare relic of Portland's early days but these few will suffice until some member of it present with the changes that have transpired in history will take their pencil and decant upon the vicissitudes and hardships endured by the hardy pioneers who laid the foundations of the present and future prosperity of this commercial emporium of the northwest

ZACH CHANDLER'S AMBITION

LOOKING FOR IT TO THE TIME WHEN GRANT HAS GONE A SIN

[Washington Correspondence N Y Herald]

Mr Zach Chandler accompanied by Mr Charles T Gorham who was assistant secretary of the Interior under Mr Chandler arrived here this morning for the purpose it is understood of effecting the influence of the congressional republican committee to the ward the interests of Mr Chandler in the state of Michigan It is said that Mr Chandler's ambition is to represent his state in the senate again and that his opponent, Judge Christiancy, has the support of the administration as far, at least, as the president is willing to give anybody his support, and that Mr Chandler is determined to use his power in behalf of the Republican cause but as an anti Hayes man Of the support of the congressional committee it is said that Mr. Chandler has the most positive assurances. His son in law, Mr Eugene Hale, is an active member of that committee and is doing all he can to promote the plans of Mr Chandler In this connection it is also said that the ex secretary talks very plainly about the necessity of the party again making Gen Grant its presidential nominee in 1880. Those who are acquainted with the political tactics of the ex senator say that this is only a shrewd plan to keep himself prominently before the people of Michigan and that the popularity of ex President Grant will serve his purpose better in the senatorial race than any other that Mr Chandler could adopt. As to any attempt on his part to conciliate President Hayes, his friends say that the opposition of the president is more to be desired than his friendship.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

MONDAY EVENING, July 22, 1878.

Gold in New York, 100¾

Legal tenders in Portland—buying 99¼ selling par.

Silver coin, 2½ per cent. discount buying 2 per cent. discount selling.

SAN FRANCISCO July 22.—Legal tenders 99@99⅞
Mexicans, 92@93.
Trade dollars 97@97¼
Half dollars, 97 80@98.

The week opens with a good deal of activity in business circles, but without any material change in the financial situation The slightly upward tendency in the wheat and wool markets induces a somewhat improved call for funds for the purpose of moving these products but the demand is still met with reasonable readiness at about the rates which have prevailed for several weeks past.

The eastern news of a financial character is not generally important. There has been some extitement in respect to the intimation that the secretary of treasury intends shortly to resume specie payments. Whatever may be his alternative in this matter this step would be taken as an indication that it is now as it has heretofore been the policy of the Sherman school of financiers to refund the national debt and to withdraw the government note as rapidly as possible, in contrast to the extremists who are with no uncertainty of purpose or plan creating a great popular sympathy for greenbacks as a medium for the absolute and final payment of all debts, public and private. It is the favorite theory of the resumptionist that the fact of having actually resumed, if it can be accomplished before any further legislation is possible, will possess such fascinating features as will forever set the public mind at rest. The paper money advocates predict the worst results to the country in the event the day of resumption is not delayed to a further date than January 1, 1879, and the gold men warn the country against the evils which must follow any change from the present to a policy that has no precedent in history

Domestic Produce.

The market in this department is showing quite as much activity as usual at this time of the year and the movement of wool, bacon, lard and other seasonable articles is of full volume Some lots of grain of the old crop are being offered, but as a rule there is too wide a difference in the views of holders and buyers to induce an active trade The summer's business in domestic products has been increased by the cheapness and rapidity of transportation to San Francisco and should the opposition between the different steamship lines continue through the fall the advantage to farmers and producers generally will be great, although the actual benefit to buyers and shippers and to merchants is slight if any at all. We note no important change in prices in the line of produce today.

New York Freights and Markets.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The freight market is dull and no prospect of improvement yet. The fact is there are no orders here for any large lots of freight, and for such as are in hand agents are asking more than shippers are willing to give, and the latter in view of the war between the steamers and railroads are inclined to hold back their goods in expectation of low rates. Indeed there is already a feeling created, and both parties are contracting to carry freight at less than schedule rates Clipper rates also show signs of shading and may be quoted irregular. The America finished to-day with a large lot of empty packages as it was found sufficient other freight could not be had to get her off in time. In regard to the shipment of oil on this vessel and the ship to follow, it was written five thousand cases, but the wires made it fifty thousand cases. In view of the rumored combination against the Standard Oil Co this correction is important. The steamer hence Saturday had a full cargo, notwithstanding the opposition from the railroad company.

Freights at Boston remain dull. The Sachem is closing out, having all the freight she requires No vessel has been announced to follow. Markets generally quiet.

Crop Reports.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—An official synopsis of the crop reports shows the average condition of rye and barley 101, oats the general average is 101, Tennessee and Nebraska, 112. Fruit on the whole is favorable except as escaped spring frosts. Grass and clover are remarkably fine. The tobacco average is reduced 25 per cent. The condition of wheat and corn has been heretofore reported Information received since indicates very serious damage from various causes to the spring wheat crop of Minnesota, Northern Iowa and Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 22.—From a summary of over 500 reports received by the commission merchants from points in Wisconsin Iowa and Minnesota, it is learned the damage to growing crops of wheat by late storms is extensive best averages 17 per cent. in Wisconsin 27 per cent in Iowa and 27 per cent. in Minnesota.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest by his entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his, astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health over most physicians—he can tell the patients' diseases the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for the great professional success.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

All surgical operations to be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are known and denounced by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door

Office, 63 First street, over McCormick's Franklin Bookstore.
